PASTOR'S NOTES Job experienced great trials in his life. Our first reading comes from that depressing situation. Jesus came to bring hope to the sick, suffering and hopeless. Jesus healed to proclaim God's kingdom. He knew that physical healing was temporary, and that we really need spiritual healing which brings us to eternal life.

KNOW A SAINT: St. Agatha (Feb. 5)

According to very pious tradition and legend, St. Agatha was born in the island of Sicily about the year 230 of noble parents and was martyred in Catania in the year 251. When the Roman emperor Decius issued a decree persecuting Christians, the local consul Quintian, who had long harbored lustful feelings for Agatha, tried to force his attentions on her and desired to obtain her inheritance, used the opportunity to bring her to trial on suspicion of being a Christian and force her to renounce her faith. Quintian tried to break Agatha's vow of purity by having her live for a month in a brothel. All efforts to dissuade Agatha failed. Despite the pressures place upon her, Agatha survived this ordeal, placing all her trust in the power of God. The consul then ordered that she be beaten and that her breasts be crushed and cut off. Afterward, Agatha was consigned to prison where Saint Peter appeared to her in a dazzling light and healed her wounds. At finding her cured the next day Quintian asks her: "Who has cured you?" To which she replied: "I was cured through the power of Jesus Christ". Quintian screams in rage: "How dare you speak the name of Jesus, when you know it is forbidden?" Then Quintian ordered that her body be dragged over a field of broken shards and burning coals. The result is a living document and a monumental achievement. “This is a work of art, a great work of art ... a work for eternity.” His Holiness Pope Benedict XVI

Mike Nordberg has been involved in high quality prepress and color printing for 23 years. In March 2007 the partnership with St. John’s University was established.
